FL360 IR-C

Engineered specifically for tactical teams operating in high-risk environments, the FL360 IR-C Camera is an essential tool for executing warrants—whether for searches or arrests—where the danger to officers is heightened. In situations involving armed and dangerous subjects, the safety of the team is paramount. The FL360 IR-C Camera excels in scanning hazardous locations, such as fortified structures or concealed void spaces, ensuring that every corner is assessed before personnel enter. This advanced technology not only enhances operational effectiveness but also significantly reduces the risk to officers, making it an indispensable asset in dangerous missions.
